MICHAEL BETANCOURT (°1971) is a critical theorist and research artist who works with movies and static imagery.

A pioneer of "glitch," he has worked with databending images and video since the 1990s. His visually seductive glitch works bring the visionary tradition into the present: by emphasizing their digital origins, his aesthetics invites the viewer to find poetic meaning in everyday life.

His movies have screened internationally at the Black Maria Film Festival, Contemporary Art Ruhr, Festival des Cinemas Differents de Paris, Director's Lounge (Berlin), Millennium Film Workshop, and Experiments in Cinema among many others.

His writing has been translated into Chinese, French, German, Greek, Italian, Japanese, Persian, Portuguese, and Spanish, and published in a variety of magazines, including The Atlantic, Make Magazine, Millennium Film Journal, Leonardo, Semiotica, and CTheory. He wrote The _____ Manifesto, and more than 30 books, including The Critique of Digital Capitalism, Glitch Art in Theory and Practice, and Beyond Spatial Montage: Windowing. Ω
